ICRC-CORDEX 2016

The International Conference on Regional Climate (ICRC)-CORDEX 2016 will bring together the international community involved in regional climate research focusing on high resolution climate information, and its applications to the vulnerability, impacts and adaptation community and the full spectrum of potential end users of regional climate information. It will further promote the CORDEX vision to advance and coordinate the science and application of regional climate downscaling through global partnerships.

The Call for Abstracts is now open at the ICRC-CORDEX 2016 homepage and interested participants are invited to submit abstracts relevant to the sessions outlined in the provisional programme which can be found overleaf.

A further goal of CORDEX is to build the capacity of regional climate science in developing and transition regions; great steps have been made but there is still much work to be done. The ICRC-CORDEX 2016 offers a platform for further capacity development, training and knowledge exchange for Early Career and Developing Country scientists together with the opportunity to develop existing, or build new, collaborations with new partners from across the globe. See the Financial Support page of the conference website for further details on how to apply. The deadline for applications is 17.00 CET on Monday 30th November 2015.
